

Word-building 1

consider	1 2 3 4 5	The problems we face are _____. We must take all factors into _____. His behaviour is unfortunately somewhat _____. Your progress has been not _____. I must ask you to _____ your initial answer to this question. Remember that you are under oath.
derivatives of "quire"	6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14	Where did you _____ your magnificent American accent? The _____ into the train crash will last for months. What are the _____ for study at university? My latest art _____ is an original Picasso. Kids are very _____. They are always asking questions. This course _____ a very good standard of English. I thought this was just going to be an informal chat, not an _____. He has an _____ mind, always searching to understand life's mysteries. I have an _____ about the syllabus for this course. Can you advise me?
derivatives of "volve"	15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	Were you _____ in this crime? Much political power has now been _____ from London to Scotland. A wheel _____ around a central point called a hub. If politicians constantly fail to listen to voters then one day there will be a _____. What exactly is your _____ in this company? _____ doors are quite fun, but I really prefer those that just open and shut, His explanation was so _____ that I didn't understand a word of it. If a husband and wife are arguing it's best not to get _____.
neglect	23 24 25 26	The effects of relativity on Earth are _____. The problems of water supply must not be _____. Parents are sometimes _____ of their duty. You have been extremely _____ in the execution of your duties.
derivatives of "side"	27 28 29 30 31 32 33	He was convicted of _____-trading on the stock market. It is time to put _____ our differences. There is an _____ chance that terrorists will strike during the Games. In this conflict, the Russians have _____ with Assad. The _____ of many drugs can be worse than the illnesses they are supposed to cure. The _____ rule is not that easy to understand. In this conflict it is essential to get the Russians _____.