

It's relatively easy

At the meeting there were	two people,	one both neither	of whom	I knew.
	lots of people,	all most many some one two none the majority very few not a single one
On the table there were	two objects,	one neither	of which	was mine.
		both		were mine.
	lots of objects,	all most many some one two none
Over there is a table,	above in the middle of on near next to under	which	(there) is a lamp.

- Examples:
- 1 He made a lot of jokes in his speech, very few of which made anyone laugh.
 - 2 California has a lot of visitors, most of whom visit Disneyland.
 - 3 Walt Disney was devoted to his children, all of whom in turn adored their father.
 - 4 Sleeping Beauty's Castle, all of which is half-scale, is located in Fantasy Land.
 - 5 Disney fans, many of whom Mr Disney met personally, all praised his projects.

Now combine these sentences:

- 1 I often listen to the Beatles. Most of their songs became worldwide hits.
- 2 I have a few good friends. I am happy to include you among them.
- 3 We surveyed several plots of land. None of them were in any way suitable.
- 4 We carried out many experiments. Few of them were successful.
- 5 Shakespeare wrote many plays. All of them have been studied for centuries.
- 6 The police arrested a group of men. Some of them were drunk.
- 7 She had a large collection of books. Most of their covers needed repair.
- 8 There's a woman on the phone. You met her husband at the conference.
- 9 There's a man over there. I went to university with his son.
- 10 That man over there has six sons. All of them have qualified as doctors.
- 11 He made about 50 films. I've seen nearly all of them.
- 12 I've made a lot of money in my time. Most of it I've wasted.
- 13 There's a wood over there. Through it runs a path to the village.
- 14 It's a beautiful village. In its middle there is a duckpond.
- 15 It's an interesting problem. Philosophers have struggled with it for millennia