

Short stories with Mixed Tenses 1 - Be careful - some verbs are in the NEGATIVE!

A It's Saturday afternoon: John and Mary are in the kitchen.

- John: Are you going out? Where _____ you _____? go
- Mary: I _____ to the baker's. go
- John: Why?
- Mary: I _____ some cakes for tea! buy
- John: You _____ to do that!! need
- Mary: Why not?
- John: Because I _____ already _____ some! buy
- Mary: Really? When _____ you _____ that? do
- John: This afternoon, before you _____ home. come

B It's Sunday afternoon:

- Mary: You've got your coat on! Where _____ you _____? go
- John: I _____ the dog for walk. take
- Mary: But he _____ already _____ for a long walk! go
- John: I _____ that! When _____ he _____? know - go
- Mary: This morning - before you _____ up! I'm sure he _____ to go on another one! get - want

C Alan and Trisha are back at school on Monday morning:

- Alan: What _____ you _____ at the weekend? do
- Trisha: We _____ to the zoo in Stuttgart. go
- Alan: Really? _____ you _____ a good time? have
- Trisha: Yes. It _____ great. _____ you _____ there? be - go
- Alan: No, I _____ never _____ there, but people _____ me go - tell it's very nice. What _____ you _____ the most? enjoy
- Trisha: I _____ the aquarium most. There _____ like - be thousands of beautiful fish. I _____ never _____ see so many in one place before.
- Alan: _____ you _____ any photos? take
- Trisha: Yes, I _____.
- Alan: _____ you _____ them on the internet? put
- Trisha: I _____ already _____ some on the internet and put
I _____ the rest on later. put