

Better late than never!

A A difficult interview!

Mr Steele:

Potts: Yes, Mr Steele. I was a bit late this morning, but only ten minutes.

Mr Steele:

Potts: Err ... twice this week, Sir - unless you count today ...

Mr Steele:

Potts: In Bridgehurst, Sir.

Mr Steele:

Potts: It's the other side of Lambton Green.

Mr Steele:

Potts: By train, Sir.

Mr Steele:

Potts: The 8.40, Sir.

Mr Steele:

Potts: It gets to Victoria at 9.20.

Mr Steele:

Potts: Bridgehurst Station is about fifteen minutes walk from my house, Sir.

Mr Steele:

Potts: No Sir, I always catch the bus.

Mr Steele:

Potts: Because the bus isn't always on time, so I sometimes miss the train.

Mr Steele:

Potts: I leave the office at 5.30, Sir.

Mr Steele:

Potts: The 5.35, Sir.

Mr Steele:

Potts: No, Sir. I've never missed it!

Mr Steele:

B Late!

Smith: Where've you _____?

Jones: _____ been to the chemist's to _____ some aspirin.

Smith: What _____?

Jones: Because I've _____ a headache. I've _____ it all morning.

Smith: I _____ had a headache.

Jones: You're lucky. I've _____ ever since I _____ ten.

Smith: I've never _____ ill. _____ never even _____ an aspirin.

Jones: _____ you _____ had a cold?

Smith: No, never. _____ never even _____ to the doctor's.

C Late Again!

Smith: Where _____ you this morning?

Jones: I _____ in bed.

Smith: What? Why _____ you _____ up and go to work?

Jones: Because I _____ sick and _____ a temperature.

Smith: _____ you asleep _____ morning?

Jones: No. I _____ to the radio for a while.

Smith: What time _____ you _____ up?

Jones: When I _____ better, at about 1.00.

Smith: Are you _____ alright now?

Jones: Oh yes. _____ you _____ the job _____?